EASTERN NEWS.

[BY TELEGRAPH TO THE OREGONIAN.]

Steamer Damaged by Icebergs.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The steamer W. A. Schotter, from Rotterdam, has arrived with her propeller damaged, her starboard bow stove and the fore compartment filled with water, having encountered several fields of icebergs, at one time being completely surrounded by them.

Two more Marine Disasters.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The Panama Pacific Mail steamer Payta struck a sunken reef just off Santa Pera, and had to be run ashore to prevent her sinking. It is hoped the ship, or much of her cargo, will be saved.

The St. Nicholas, an American ship with coal from Liverpool to San Francisco, is ashore and scuttled close by. The cargo had been on fire several days.

A Revenue Decision.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The Treasury Department has decided that 5 per cent. for breakage is not allowed on effervescent wines in warehouse. The grounds on which this position is taken are that the 5 per cent. specified in the act of January 18th, 1874, being an allowance in lieu of breakage, is therefore analogous to allowances for damages from other causes.

Specie Drift.

NEW YORK, April 22.—The specie shipments to-day are $366,000, of which $50,000 is gold coin; remainder silver bars.

[illegible] and Isthmus Routes Come to Terms.

NEW YORK, April 19.—The Tribune this morning publishes the following paragraph: John P. Jones and Trenor W. Park, representing the Panama Railroad, and Jay Gould, representing the Union Pacific Railroad and Pacific Mail Steamship, held a conference on Saturday for the purpose of trying to arrive at an amicable adjustment of the affairs between the companies. Both sides realize the importance of harmonious working arrangements, as competition would injure both. The only point of difference remaining unadjusted was as to division of earnings on through freights. It is now understood both sides have made concessions on this point, and a formal contract will be entered into this week. Senator Jones seems to have brought keen business insight to the affairs of the Panama Railroad, and to be straightening out all complications.

Panama stock opened to-day at 128½, and has since sold at 142; now 3 P. M., 146.

The Dauntless brings in the Crew of the Cornwallis.

NEW YORK, April 18.—The ship Dauntless, Capt. Wilbur, arrived to-day from San Francisco. She brought Capt. James Holland and crew, 26 in number, of the British ship Cornwallis, wrecked on Pitcairn's Island. Capt. Holland reports: "Sailed from San Francisco Dec. 18th for Liverpool. Jan. 23d made the island of Pitcairn; hove the ship to with her head off shore, distant about 3 miles. At 3 P. M. went ashore with the ship's boat, leaving the first mate in charge, with instructions not to come within three miles of the island. After being on shore some time saw the ship standing in. Prepared to come off, she having stood close in. In tacking she missstayed, and in trying to wear the ship round, she went on the rocks. Within ten minutes after striking I was on board. She was then filling, having a hole through forward. The wind was fresh and right on shore, so that it was impossible to get her off or save the ship. Dark coming on and a high surf, I determined to land the crew, which, after some trouble and risk, was done. At 9 P. M. went off to the ship, which was then partly under water. The islanders attempting to get alongside, smashed their boats to atoms. Nothing could be done to save anything. Next morning there was so much sea and surf we could not launch the boats. On the morning of the 25th, the surf was much higher. At about 11 A. M. the ship began to break up, and by night she completely disappeared, nothing being saved but a few clothes, the chronometer and three boats. The same day the ship Dauntless hove in sight, the islanders having launched a gig went off to her, which having taken the boat on board, lay by for the night. Next morning, Capt. Wilbur having sent a letter to me proffering to take us off the island and do the best he could, I gladly accepted and by 4 P. M. the whole of the crew were on board. Thanking the islanders for their kindness, we proceeded on our passage to New York. The Captain publishes a card expressing the warmest gratitude to Capt. Wilbur. The Dauntless reports she passed Cape Horn Feb. 18th, and met the Saratoga for San Francisco.

A Sunken Ship Raised.

NEW YORK, April 21.—The London bark Scotland, which filled with water and grounded in her dock at Liverpool, has been raised and is discharging her cargo.

Money and Stocks.

NEW YORK, April 22.—Gold closed at 14⅞@15, [illegible] Governments dull and strong; stocks active—W. U., 77⅝; Quicksilver, 20⅛; Pacific Mail, 41⅞; Wells Fargo, 88; N. Y. Cen., 102¼; Erie, 29⅜; Panama, 143; Union Pacific, 72; bonds, 101; Central bonds, 102¼.

The Mormon Propogandi.

NEW YORK, April 21.—A dispatch from London, Canada, says the Mormon apostles laboring there are making numerous proselytes.

Fire.

CORRY, PA., April 22.—Crosby's block was burned this morning; loss, $50,000.

Communication Renewed.

OMAHA, April 22.—A large train of delayed passengers and mails from the West arrived here this morning and the through train will probably leave here for the West to-morrow.

The Strike to be Continued.

POTTSVILLE, PA., April 22.—At a large meeting of delegates of the Miners' and Laborers' Association here to-day there was an almost unanimous vote to continue the strike.

A Steamer Condemned and Forfeited.

BALTIMORE, April 22.—In the U. S. district court to-day, in the case of the United States against the steamer Edgar Stewart, Judge Giles rendered a decision condemning the vessel and decreeing her forfeited to the United States on the ground that, while enrolled in the coastwise trade, she had left New London fully equipped and destined for a foreign port, which rendered her clearly liable to forfeiture.

The Louisiana Senate Impeaches the State Auditor.

NEW ORLEANS, April 22.—The Senate passed a joint resolution suspending Auditor Clinton from office during his trial. The Senate resolved itself into a court of impeachment on the case.

Strikes in the Rolling-Mills.

WHEELING, W. V., April 22.—About all the nail feeders in the mills have struck, but nailers so far feed their own machines, and so keep the mills running. The helpers' strike is still extending, and boilers are like the nailers, doing double duty.

The Presbytery of St. Louis.

ST. LOUIS, April 22.—The Presbytery of St. Louis, at a recent meeting held at Rolla, Missouri, adopted an overture to the general assembly to meet at Cleveland in May next, and urged the general assembly to rest further negotiations upon the desired and possible future action of the Southern assembly.

Death of John Harper.

NEW YORK, April 22.—John Harper, senior member of Harper Bros., died this evening after a prolonged illness, in his 79th year.

WASHINGTON CITY.

The Resignation of Attorney-General Williams.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Attorney-General Williams to-day tendered to the President the resignation of his office, to take effect the 5th of May. The resignation is not yet effected, and therefore no person is named as his successor. Intimate friends of Judge Williams say he designs returning to Oregon and entering the contest for U. S. Senator from that State.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—It is believed that Secretary Bristow will be appointed Attorney General in place of Williams.

Positive Denial from the White House.

The report that the President has requested or intimated to Secretary Delano to resign, is positively denied at the executive mansion.

Postal Changes.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—The following postal changes have been ordered for the Pacific Coast: Postmasters appointed—F. W. Webster, Joppa, Washington county, Oregon; M. S. Patterson, Milton, Umatilla county, Oregon; Samuel Case, Newport, Benton county, Oregon; Edwin Morgan, Sam's Valley, Jackson county, Oregon; David P. Foot, Sodaville, Lane county, Oregon. Office discontinued; Kodiac, Alaska.

The Government Contest with the U. P.

WASHINGTON, April 19.—The great suit brought by the Union Pacific Railroad Company against the government, to recover half the cost of transportation of the mails and public supplies, is set for to-day in the Court of Claims. It is for a half a million in dollars, but several millions will be involved in the decision.

Advantages of Panama over Nicaragua for the Ship Canal.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Francis W. Rice, formerly U. S. consul at Aspinwall and Acapulco, has addressed a letter to Secretary Robeson in relation to the report that Commander Lull seems to favor Nicaragua to the Panama route for a canal to connect the Atlantic and Pacific oceans. He says, after a residence of 18 years on the Isthmus, 8 of which were passed as U. S. consul, he can speak of Panama as more healthy than Nicaragua, and add, with as favorable conditions for living in either country, is as healthy as Vermont or New Hampshire. He concludes by saying that the Panama route would be 600 or 700 miles nearer than the proposed Nicaragua route to the great cities and rich trade of the south Pacific.

Secretary Delano Retains His Position.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Secretary Delano returned here this morning, and in response to numerous inquiries as to the truth of reports that the President had requested his resignation, he states that they are not true. Last fall Secretary Delano told the President he desired to resign for the purpose of attending to his private affairs in Ohio, but the President requested him to withhold his resignation as long as possible. The Secretary, therefore, relinquished his purpose of resigning at that time, but intended doing so on the first of this month, and shortly after the close of the extra session of the Senate he went to Ohio for the purpose of arranging his private affairs preliminary to retiring from the department. He did not return here until last Wednesday, and since then has had no opportunity of conferring with the President upon the matter, though he had hoped to find one during their recent trip to Massachusetts. The Secretary made no definite statement as to his present intentions in regard to resigning.

WASHINGTON, April 22.—Ex-Senator Cole has arrived here on business for California claimants before the court of Alabama claims commissioners.

THE TILTON-BEECHER CASE.

NEW YORK, April 22.—There was a marked decrease in the attendance on the Beecher trial to-day, even the so-called Plymouth Church circle being contracted to the proportion usual before Mr. Beecher took the stand. The principals in the case and counsel were present.

H. O. Armour,

Produce merchant, was the first witness. He testified to having declined to examine the papers in the case at the invitation of Moulton, who wanted to show him he was right in his general position, and who said he would make it hotter than hell for any one testifying against him. He was not cross-examined.

Henry M. Cleveland

Was the next witness, and testified that Beecher called on him at the Christian Union office, June 2, 1872, between 11 and 12 o'clock and stayed about 40 minutes and ordered his mail to be sent to Boston. Witness remembers the publication of a card by Beecher. Saw him at the house of Moses L. Beach on the 20th of June, and at that time suggested to him the publication of the card.

On cross-examination, Cleveland testified he made the acquaintance of Frank Carpenter, Sunday 25th May, 1872. Went to him for Beecher, and was to bring him to Moulton's, as Beecher said he wanted him to go to Bowen and confer with him in regard to some reports having reference to Beecher. Carpenter and I talked about the tripartite covenant.

Shearman objected to this line of testimony, and counsel said he proposed to show that Carpenter was brought over to Bowen to threaten him with publishing the tripartite agreement, if he did not stop repeating the stories.

Witness resumed: Told Carpenter if the stories were repeated the agreement would be published. At the time of the conversation, I knew Beecher's moral character was involved. I never talked with Beecher about the scandal; talked with him about the Woodhull publication of Nov. 1st, 1872. I knew there were stories afloat affecting Beecher's moral character, which were settled in April, 1872, by covenant. These scandals afloat related to Beecher's immoral conduct with regard to women. The covenant was published from a manuscript in the hands of Sam Wilkeson. I understood from Beecher, Bowen circulated these stories about his moral character. This was all that was said on the subject. I took the covenant to the office of the Times May 29th, to be published; left it with Mr. Jones because I knew there would be a newspaper war, and I wanted to put Beecher in his true position in the eyes of the press. I took it there also to have an interview with Jones, but don't remember what I said. When I left it with the Times I knew it would be published. Did not say to Jones Beecher wanted it published; said to Carpenter if he would look in the papers next morning he would see the biggest sensation in the country since the war.

Had a talk with counsel about my testimony, and have conversed with them three or four times since I came from the country, with reference to my evidence. The hour of the day at which I saw Beecher was not a topic of conversation. I have a partial recollection of being at his office that evening, but not of what took place. I either was there with Jno. R. Howard, or Ford, and if I did go, I suppose the visit was to see that the proofs were correct.

On the 25th of June Beecher mentioned the names of gentlemen on whom he intended to call with regard to investigating the Bacon charge; and I was one. The names he suggested, as I recollect, were Sage, Claflin, Beecher, Hawkins, Shearman.

Recess was here taken.

The cross examination of the morning was not rapid. Shearman insisting that the witness was being asked questions he had already answered, and Morris insisting he must get satisfactory answers.

NEW YORK, April 22.—After recess the cross-examination of Cleveland was continued by ex-Judge Morris. He testified to having met Beecher on the 26th of June, 1874, when he went to his house and Beecher suggested the names of seven or eight persons to be appointed on the investigating committee, among them witness. All the names were suggested to Beecher by witness and Shearman. In the evening the names of the persons selected were discussed by witness, Beecher and Shearman, and Tracy, who was invited to be present by witness, at Beecher's request. Beecher gave no reason for wanting to consult Tracy except to obtain legal advice. Witness was not aware that Tracy had that day published a card denying he was counsel for Beecher. Witness was a member of the committee and a personal friend of Beecher. He first heard of the charges to be investigated by common report; had not seen Tilton about Beecher's relations to his wife. The first meeting of the committee was on the 28th June, when only four members were present. The first regular meeting for the transaction of business was on the 10th of July. The next was on the Monday night following. The committee either organized that night or the following. Ellingwood, stenographer, was present that night; Tuesday night, don't recollect who was present; cannot recollect when the next meeting was. Five members of the committee met at Ovington's house on July 6th. Ellingwood, stenographer, was there, and all the members but White; Gen. Tracy was there; Mrs. Tilton made a statement before them, and the stenographer took it down; think July 6th was Monday; don't remember what time in the evening Mrs. Tilton's statement was taken; it has never been published; the stenographer gave the testimony to the committee, and it is now in the hands of the examining committee of the church. It was placed in the hands of the clerk, Thomas J. Sherman, to place in the hands of the executive committee. On the 10th of July the committee met at Aug. Storrs'. Tilton was before them that night, and remained one or two hours. I received a note from Mrs. Ovington that night, asking if T. was before the committee, and I returned answer "Yes." I suppose it was next morning Mrs. Tilton left her house. Hill and Tracy attended these sessions of the committee; if I recollect aright we summoned every witness I named; didn't summon Bowen or Mrs. Moulton because he didn't name them. Summoned Richards, Tilton's brother-in-law and Mrs. Bradshaw; Richards didn't testify for the reason as near as witness could recollect, that he knew nothing bearing on the case; didn't remember he refused to testify, nor that he said his testimony wouldn't bear upon the case. In Sept., 1874, witness went to Boston to see Redpath, having written authority from Beecher to act in his behalf in relation to matters pertaining to the scandal. Papers were given him as credentials to Redpath to hear what he had to say about Beecher.

Cleveland here left the stand, but the cross-examination is not finished.

James M. Little

Was the next witness, who testified to having seen Tilton riding in a carriage with Mrs. Claflin in a Communist procession, and Mrs. Woodhull marching in front of the procession. He knew Tilton, and the women were pointed out to him as Claflin and Woodhull.

Steamer Ventura Wrecked.

MONTEREY, April 21.—The steamer Ventura, of Goodall, Nelson & Perkins' line, ran on a rock and was wrecked, about 9 o'clock last night, at Point Sur, 25 miles from here. She was bound to the lower coast from San Francisco, with about 225 passengers, who were all landed safely in boats. The steamer lies now about 200 yards from shore, with bottom all stove, but was on an even keel, with about 12 feet of water in her hold. She has about 500 tons freight aboard, which, if the weather remains good, can all be saved. The steamer will prove a total loss. The passengers are making their way to this place.

Wreck of the Ventura.

MONTEREY, April 22.—From the freight clerk of the ship your reporter learns the following particulars of the disaster to the steamer Ventura. With about 132 passengers and 400 tons of freight, the vessel left San Francisco at 9 A. M. Tuesday, 20th inst., and passed New Year's Point about 5 P. M. the same day, and encountered a heavy fog bank. The captain took bearings and adjusted the course of the vessel and lowered sail. The vessel traveled through the fog until about 8 P. M., making fair headway. At that hour she struck a rock, rebounded and swung around with her stern toward the beach, the propeller striking the rocks and being carried away. The vessel was then at the mercy of the wind. The sea being comparatively quiet, she was driven against the rock, which protruded several feet above the water. Dismay and consternation prevailed among the passengers on board, but on the vessel becoming safely grounded against the rock they quieted down, and boats were lowered. The two first that put out for shore were not heard from until the next morning at 7 A. M., when they returned, having made the land safely. The second two boats succeeded in making a landing near the wreck, on the sand beach, and made fast a line by which all on board were saved. A fire was built and everything made as comfortable as circumstances would admit. About 7 o'clock next morning many passengers took foot passage for this place, where they arrived about 10 P. M. footsore and weary. The vessel has thirteen feet of water in the hold, and will become a total wreck.

The Santa Cruz left this place at 11 o'clock last evening for the wreck for the purpose of bringing up any remaining passengers, and is expected to return at 5 P. M., when full particulars will be received. It is claimed the accident was caused by false action of the compass.

A Heavy Suit Against the C. P.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—An action was commenced to-day in the United States circuit court by the United States against the Central Pacific Railroad Company, to recover $1,836,635 10, five per cent. of the net earnings of the railroad from the 10th of July, 1869, to October 31st, 1874, in accordance with the provisions of the acts of Congress providing for the construction of the railroad and liquidation of the $1,000 bonds issued to the company.

After a Newspaper for Libel.

SAN FRANCISCO, April 22.—In the police court this afternoon in the libel suit of Chief of Police Cockrill against Henry George & Wm. Hinton, of the Post newspaper, Judge Joachimson rendered a decision binding both parties in the sum of $10,000 each to appear before the grand jury. It is rumored that several other suits are likely to be brought against the same parties by members of the police force, who consider they have been libeled in the columns of the Post.

The Burning Steamer Proves to be a Man-of-War Firing her Guns for Practice.

SANTA BARBARA, April 22.—Capt. Chase has just returned from the islands, and states that a square-rigged man-of-war passed up the channel yesterday and fired her guns several times, but not as signals of distress, it being probable that the fire was only in practice. There was great excitement in this city last evening over the report of the distress at sea, and bonfires were built all along the channel down as far as Carpenteria, and kept there all night, by a number of our citizens.

Another Great Land Sale.

The second great Lompoc sale comes off on the 26th. We have the most favorable reports of the present condition and the near prospects of this now famous colony.

UTAH.

The Union Pacific Blockade—No Trains Through Yet.

SALT LAKE CITY, April 22.—The U. P. R. R. is still blocked east. No mail has arrived here from the east since April 13th. A train was expected here this evening, but owing to another washout in Weber canyon it is doubtful if it arrives. This train contains passengers and mail transferred by wagons for several miles on Bitter creek, and has been five days on the way from Green river, having been delayed by numerous washouts. The streams are all high and rising. The weather continues warm.

A report from Green river this morning says the track east and west is in a bad condition; that the railroad company have about 400 men at work repairing the track east of there, and about 20 teams for making the transfer of several miles. They think they will get the track repaired in about twenty days. Still another washout is reported this evening near Church Buttes, and an engine and two cars in the ditch. This washout trouble extends from Ogden, Utah, to Rock Springs, Wyoming, a distance of 200 miles.

THE POSTAL LAW CHANGE.—Congressman Stephen A. Cobb, member of the House committee on postoffices, has written a letter to a Kansas paper, in which he says: "Since writing you a few days ago I am able to tell you definitely about the passage of the act increasing the price of postage on third-class matter in the mails, and about which you justly complain in your issue of the 17th inst. It was put on as an amendment to the 'Sundry Civil bill,' in the Senate, then agreed to in Conference committee and concurred in the House without attracting attention or discussion of any sort. The postoffice committee of the House, by a very large majority, were opposed to the change, and would have opposed it to the last, had it come to their knowledge that such an amendment had been incorporated in the bill. That notice would have been had in ordinary legislation. But it was not so enacted. It was passed in the closing hours of Congress, in the midst of an indescribable confusion, when, by the very necessity of the case, members must take as their guide of action the report of conference committees."

A correspondent writing from Paradise valley, Idaho, says: "There is a flouring mill being erected two miles below the bridge on the Palouse, to be in running order by the 1st of October. The party erecting it proposes doing the fair thing, which will gladden the heart of many a farmer.

BOARD OF CENTENNIAL COMMISSIONERS.

SALEM, April 20, 1875.

The board of centennial commissioners for the State of Oregon met this afternoon at the office of Gov. Grover, according to adjournment on January 6th. There were present Gov. Grover, chairman; Hon. A. J. Dufur, centennial commissioner from Oregon; Hons. M. Wilkins, C. P. Burkhardt and Rev. Dr. E. R. Geary, and S. A. Clarke, secretary.

The board was called to order by the chairman.

On motion of Mr. Dufur it was decided that the board shall apply for 1,600 feet of space at the centennial exposition for the exhibition of Oregon products.

There were added to the various committees, as follows: Historical committee, Rev. Dr. Atkinson, Portland; educational committee, Dr. L. L. Rowland, Salem, Rev. T. L. Eliot, Portland; cereal committee, etc., Dr. F. S. Matteson, Coos county, D. B. Cartwright, Lane county; botanical committee, J. R. Sanburn, Oregon City, Prof. T. H. Crawford, Salem.

After consideration by the board the following preambles and resolutions were adopted on motion of Dr. Geary.

WHEREAS, It is deemed of vital importance to the best interests of our State that Oregon should be represented at the Centennial Exhibition of 1876, in the choicest productions of her soil, and mines, and industries; and,

WHEREAS, No provisions have as yet been made for defraying the expenses of freight and sending forward material for such exhibition, therefore

Resolved, That a committee of three be appointed in each of the several counties of this State to be known as the Oregon Centennial Finance Committee, whose duty it shall be to solicit subscriptions or otherwise procure means to defray the expense of sending forward such productions, materials and articles of merit as may be deemed worthy of being placed on exhibition at the World's Exposition in Philadelphia in 1876; and,

WHEREAS, In order to promote this great event, and to secure certain success in this enterprise of such vital importance to our State, it will be necessary to secure a general co-operation of our citizens in securing funds to defray all legitimate expense, therefore

Resolved, That we earnestly request our periodicals in particular, and the people of our State in general, to give this subject their earnest attention and assist in procuring means and material for such an exhibition of the resources of our State at this great national fair as will place Oregon in her true position as to her productive capacity.

The members of the board devoted some time to making a schedule of various articles to be placed on exhibition, the same to be revised and published after the return of Mr. Dufur from attending the meeting of the National Centennial Commission at Philadelphia next month.

Minutes of last meeting were read and approved.

On motion of Dr. Geary, it was resolved that when the board adjourn it be to meet at the same place on Wednesday, the first day of July, next, at 2 P. M.

The minutes of the present meeting of the board were read and approved.

On motion of Mr. Wilkins the board adjourned.

DRAW POKER WITH A NAVY REVOLVER ACCOMPANIMENT.

An incident occurred on a recent trip which I made over the Union Pacific which may be of interest to your readers, as it was at one time of uncommon interest to me. We were rolling along between Salt Lake and Omaha when I made my way into the smoking car to enjoy a cigar. I noticed a group gathered in the center of the car, and crowding my way up found two men gambling. One was a well-dressed man, but bearing the general appearance of a black-leg; the other was a veritable miner, just as he came from the mountains, with long, grizzly beard, rough, coarse and dirty clothes, but with lots of gold. The play was for quite a large stake, and I heard whispered that the gambler was about to fleece the miner, and much sympathy was manifested for him.

The game—draw poker—still went on, with hardly a word spoken by the players, till finally, when a large sum was on the board, the gambler being called to show his hand, threw down three aces and two queens and reached for the money, the miner stretched over and held his hand and laid down two aces, showing, of course, five aces in the pack. He then reached back and drew a large navy revolver, cocked it, placed the muzzle directly between the eyes of the gambler, still holding his hand. Not a word was spoken, but each looked steadily into the eyes of the other. Soon the hand began to quietly move from the money, the form of the gambler to draw back, and still the revolver followed. He stepped into the aisle, and here the scene became so uninteresting to me and several others present that we dropped under the seats. The gambler slowly backed toward the door, with the revolver following till the door was reached, and he passed out. The miner coolly let down the hammer of his revolver, replaced it in his pocket, swept the money from the board into his pouch, quietly lighted his pipe and settled back in his seat as if nothing had happened. The strangest part of the whole business was that not a word was spoken from the time the gambler laid his three aces on the board till he passed out of the car-door. I took a seat near the miner afterward, and chatted with him about his experiences in the mountains, and he seemed pleasant and intelligent. I did not refer to his little episode with the black-leg. I have never witnessed a more thrilling scene, or one in which such extreme coolness was manifested by the miner, and for that matter, by the gambler.—Communication to Youngston, Ohio Banner.

ANOTHER REVOLUTIONARY PENSIONER DROPPED FROM THE ROLL.

[From the Pittsburg Leader.]

Another revolutionary pensioner passed away in the person of Mrs. Mary Huston, who died, aged ninety-four years, four months and five days, at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. Sandfair, in Center township, Indiana county, this State, on the 15th ult. She was one of the few remaining revolutionary pension widows. She was born in Carlisle, Cumberland county, in the year 1780. Her father, Joseph Reed, was a revolutionary soldier, and served three years in the army under Washington. At the close of the war he, like many others, thought of emigrating West to Kentucky, then the paradise of the world, and in the fall of 1790 he started, with his wife and a family of small children, in an open wagon, intending to go to Pittsburg and go down the river in flat-boats, but the winter set in early, and they only got to what is known as the forks between the Conemaugh and Blacklick-creek, in Indiana county (then Westmoreland), near where Blairsville now stands, and pitched their tent for the winter, intending to start again in the spring in some boats that were in construction at Campbell's, on Blacklick-creek, but the boats started before their arrival, and they, finding themselves disappointed, settled in Indiana county, where he and his wife spent the remainder of their days. Mary was the third child of a family of fourteen, and but one survives her.

She married James Huston, in the year 1804, to whom she bore four children, two sons and two daughters, two of whom survive her. Her husband died in the year 1841, being eighty-three years of age. He, too, served in the revolutionary war, and was an Indian scout in western Pennsylvania, and fought at the side of the renowned Captain Sam Brady and others of that same brave kind. After the death of her husband Mary lived on his farm with one of the daughters. She became celebrated in her neighborhood for medical skill, and was often called to attend the sick, always responding cheerfully and generally with good results. She was also a devout Christian, being a member of the Disciple faith. Her memory was remarkable, and her reason remained with her till within a short time of her death. She was indeed a remarkable woman.

OREGON.

Charly Church is up the valley hunting the champion spellist. Charles will use his orthographical battle ax on that individual should he find him.

A Mr. Daly came into Salem with some quartz which contained a good deal of gold, the other day. He reports that he found it in the Coast range.

There are 25 civil causes on the docket for disposition at the term of the Circuit Court for Clackamas county, which begins at Oregon City on Monday next.

The following gentlemen have been elected representatives to the Grand Lodge, I. O. O. F., from Oregon Lodge No. 3, Oregon City: A. J. Apperson, F. O. McCown and W. H. Pope.

Reports from John Day Valley say the spring has finally opened there and stock is getting fat on the range. The death rate among cattle in that section the past winter has not been large.

The present term of the school for the blind, at Salem, will close this week on account of the death of Mrs. Nesbitt, the late matron, and the pupils will leave for homes as soon as possible.

The dam to R. Canfield's mill, located about seven miles from Oregon City, gave way last week, causing a suspension of work until the necessary repairs can be made. The damage sustained will probably reach $300 to $500.

Mr. Wm. Makin, of Union county, while out in the hills last week, ran across a small band of elk, and singling out one, took after it on his horse, and succeeded in running it down, when he cut its throat with his pocket-knife.

Hon. Henry Warren had a narrow escape and swift downward ride in an elevator car at McMinnville the other day. The fastening of the car gave way, and let it down about 40 feet as rapidly as attraction of gravitation would bring it.

Wallace McIntyre was breaking clods the other day, on his father's farm across the river from Salem, and when he turned the machine up to clean it off it fell forward on the team, which ran away. The horses got some bruises, but no great damage was done.

Mr. M. Wilkins, the President of the State Agricultural Society, in company with Mr. E. M. Waite, the Secretary, and others of the Executive Committee, visited the Fair Grounds on Wednesday for the purpose of inaugurating steps for putting up the new buildings, and otherwise improving the grounds to have them ready for the next agricultural exhibition.

Mr. W. H. Smith has left at the Oregon City Enterprise office a piece of rock from an iron ledge he has just discovered on the Clackamas river. It appears to be the best rock of the kind yet seen, the iron being almost pure. The ledge is over 100 feet in width, and evidently inexhaustible. The rock has not yet been tested, but the indications are that it will prove to be very rich, and being located near the river and easy of access, cannot fail to be of great value, and must attract capital to work it out.

The Enterprise says: During last season Messrs. Lovejoy & Co., below this city were extensively engaged in putting up fruit in cans. They met with good success and their fruit found ready market. They put up peaches, plums, blackberries and other fruits, which have been pronounced by good judges to be equal to any imported. About 600 dozen cans of peaches were put up, and a greater amount of other fruits. Having met with encouragement and ready sale for all that they put up last season, they propose to engage in the business more extensively this season than last.

The Statesman says: Drs. J. C. Shelton, E. R. Fiske and J. C. Chase made a post mortem examination of the remains of Mrs. Nesbitt last Monday. It was found that the neck was broken and the fifth cervical vertebra was fractured and dislocated backwards, and the spinal column much injured. The wonder is that death was not instantaneous and would have been, had the injury been nearer the skull. From the time of the accident up to the moment of her death she retained her senses, but the lower part of her limbs were completely paralyzed from the moment of the injury.

High water is making the people east of the mountains a good deal of trouble. The Sentinel says: "One day last week, S. A. Pursel came to LaGrande to procure aid to assist him in swinging his boom across the river, in order to let drift wood and rubbish pass down the stream. A load was soon made up and started. From one who went, we learn that three of those rendering assistance came near losing their lives. Arthur Thomas and J. B. Thomson were crossing the river above the boom, for the purpose of fastening a rope to it—Arthur rowing the skiff and "Jerry" paying out the rope—when the power of the current drove them against the boom, throwing them both out. The former caught hold of the boom, while the latter, in attempting to reach it was observed by those on shore to be tangled in the rope. An attempt was at once made to draw him to the shore, by the rope, which they finally succeeded in doing, but, in their attempt, Mr. Thomson was dragged under water several times, and when reaching the shore it was hard to ascertain for a while whether he was dead or alive. On arriving at home he at once sent for Dr. Hulsey, who soon set him all right. Wm. H. McComas, in attempting to remove some drift, was suddenly thrown under a lot of logs and rubbish, by the turning of a log, but he finally succeeded in swimming ashore."

GENERAL NOTES.

A Pennsylvania man and wife lived two weeks on bread and whisky. She ate the bread and he drank the whisky.

"I dreamed I was spelling at a spelling match and never missed a word," is what young ladies say now when they recover from the effects of ether.

Here is a little conundrum for strikers: If, as they claim, they cannot live on the reduced wages offered by employers, how is it that they live without any wages at all?

After waiting four years, a Michigan lover finally popped the question, and the girl answered: "Of course I'll have you. Why, you fool you, we could have been married three years ago."

One of the sweetest things about a young and budding love is the way in which she will smooth the hair so gently off your brow, and smile tenderly in your face and show that about four of her back teeth are gone.

A pedestrian passing along Macomb street, San Francisco, recently, saw a father staggering drunk, being led along by a ragged son, and be felt so mad that he exclaimed: "See here, you debased sot, if you had a spark of manhood in your rum-buried soul you would not make such a public spectacle as this." "Mizzer," replied the man, reaching out his hand to shake, "mizzer," I've been a drunkard fr-thirty-four years, and these are the fust kind words 'zhever spoken to me! Gimme hand, mizzer—I'm going to reform right away."

AN AMERICAN CRYSTAL PALACE.—The Tradesmen's Industrial Institute, an association of men representing different trades and interests of Pittsburgh, propose erecting a palace of crystal for permanent exhibitions of their products. It is to be located in the main park of the adjoining city of Allegheny. For the exposition of this fall, temporary wooden structures are to be used, which will afterward give way to the buildings of glass, for the manufacture of which Pittsburg has been distinguished for nearly a century. With this crystal palace at one end of the State, and the permanent exhibition building which the city of Philadelphia and the State of Pennsylvania appropriated so large a sum to erect, at the other, for the Centennial, the great manufacturing State will outrank all her sisters in attractive edifices for exhibition purposes.

THE TERRITORIES.

Two ten-mule teams took the trail toward Kelton from Boise City on the 15th inst., for freight.

John T. Hicklin, of Thurston county, W. T., has obtained a patent for an improved grain separator.

The city marshal of Corinne has captured fifty horses, supposed to have been stolen in southern Utah.

The grangers have purchased the Mindleton mill, about 18 miles below Boise City, and will hereafter do their own grinding.

Rev. J. P. Lytton, who has been the pastor of the Episcopal church at Boise City for over two years, has gone East to remain.

The Victoria Colonist says: "Skadget Valley, W. T., will produce this year 100,000 tons of wheat, oats and barley." Too large by about 90,000 tons we reckon.

When Brigham Young was in jail, the other day, for contempt of court, there were five or six of his wives weeping at each window of that institution, and twelve at the door.

John Gorman has won his suit against the county commissioners of Boise county, whereby he collects his fees while turned out of office as assessor, amounting to about $5,000.

Some of the members of Olympia Grange No. 10 gathered around the grave of the late Lewis D. Barnard, on Tuesday last, and planted a memorial tree in the name of the Grange to which he belonged.

Orson Hyde, who has been president of the twelve apostles for nearly thirty years, has been degraded by his dread master to third man in the apostolic ranks,—John Taylor being promoted to the primacy.

Julius Dickens holds more offices than any other man in Washington Territory, and yet he is not happy, but goes and advertises himself in his own paper as "Meddelar Upplysningar." That is a little too much.

The work on the M. E. church at Boise City is rapidly reaching completion. The walls are all plastered and whitewashed, the ceiling and steeple painted, and it is thought that it will be ready for dedication about the latter part of the present month.

Says the Boise Statesman: A. E. Warner came in from the Weiser mines about three weeks ago to Weiser valley, having started on snow-shoes, but before he got through the snow got soft and he had to travel without the snow-shoes, and in doing so froze his feet. His two large toes on the left foot were badly frozen and he cut them off himself.

The Mormons having succeeded in getting Judge McKean off the bench in Utah, find that Judge Boreman is also a man of integrity and honesty, and they are seeking to have him removed. It appears at this distance that Brigham Young and his followers are going too fast, and the administration ought to bring them up with a round turn.

A friend informs the Boise Statesman that there are forty or fifty locations at South Mountain which may prove of equal richness with the famous Bay State, Golconda or Yreka. Those having a knowledge of the country are impatient to have the snow disappear, so as to enable them to get out and locate ledges, believing as they do, that the wealth is not all around South Mountain town. The hills to the east, south and west of the town are literally studded with mineral ledges. The timber that supplies the best coal is seven to ten miles distant, juniper being the favorite. The ores have been hoisted so far by windlass, but a whim is being put up over the Bay State mine for hoisting. Steam hoisting works may be erected during the summer.

The Dispatch says: Mr. T. H. Stringham, a baker and grocer, failed in business in Seattle and in settling with his creditors retained nothing for himself. One year ago this month he made a settlement in the timber, about half way between the bay and Lake Washington, with no other assistance than the labor of his own hands and that of his wife and a boy 15 years of age. He has now a comfortable house, over 300 choice fruit trees growing, over one hundred of which will bear fruit the present year; half an acre in strawberries and half an acre in blackberries, raspberries and grapes, with all kinds of vegetables in abundance for a family and a fine large door-yard filled with strawberries, and flowers; and, in short, the making of a beautiful home. In a year or two the fruit and other products of this place will bring in an increase sufficient for the support of the family. Mr. Stringham has, in the meantime, worked in the city nearly every day at painting, and he has employed no extra help on his place. The opportunities are abundant for others to do likewise.

Says the Bellingham Bay Mail: "The sad intelligence of the drowning of J. F. Ellis, of Cypress Island, in this county, was received here last Sunday, through Mr. John McGlinn, sub-agent at the Lummi reservation. The facts available in the case are briefly as follows: 'Cap' Ellis, as they call him, came in from Cypress Island in a small boat on Tuesday evening, 30th ult., and spent the following day at Sehome, transacting business and purchasing supplies at the B. B. C. Co.'s store for himself and two of his neighbors, Tilton and Kittle. He started home on Thursday morning. That day it blew pretty stormy in the bay outside the point, but not enough to deter the experienced boatman to cross over to the islands. The following day the Indians on the reservation picked up a boat right side up, three miles south of the village, with mast and sail set, containing a coat, blankets, some groceries, mail matter, &c. The Indians turned the boat and contents over to the agent, who came to town on Sunday and reported the facts. Mr. Baxter has identified some papers which had been given Mr. Ellis, so there can be no doubt of the casualty or the person lost.

That the Democratic party has failed to improve its opportunities is clear to all intelligent observers. The worst instead of the best of the party comes to the front, and it is the restoration of the Bourbons—not even the Orleanists, but the regular old Legitimists, Ultramontanes, the incapables of other days—that is proposed. The Democratic party, by the election of a mere Confederate in Missouri, and a mere Copperhead in Connecticut, and by sticking to a nobody with no chance in Massachusetts, and picking the smallest instead of the largest man in Pennsylvania, has placed itself, as the old-fashioned conservative national politicians sought to place slavery, in the course of ultimate extinction. The indispensable margin of liberal and independent voters will not take part with that party.—Cincinnati Commercial (Ind.)

The explanations thus far made by the fathers of the new postal law, says the Tribune, are about the weakest efforts of the kind ever placed before the public. Realizing this fact, the Cincinnati Commercial tries its hand in explaining the origin of the oppressive measure, and comes pretty near the truth in the following: "After all the explanations that ignorant and innocent Congressmen—those too young to know evil, and those too old to make it a business—have made, the true explanation of the odious provision of the postoffice laws, charged to the express companies, may have a hearing. Advantage was taken of the anxiety of the express companies to stop the carrying across the continent of packages at a loss to the government and the express business; also to strike a blow at the press of the great cities. This was deliberately and intelligently done by the class of Credit Mobilier and Pacific Mail politicians and their natural allies, for reasons that are obvious."

Nine years after the war of 1866, which was so disastrous for Austria, the Emperor Francis Joseph has taken a step which indicates that, for all practical purposes, his resentment toward the authors of his humiliation has been entirely effaced. The reconciliation with Prussia was no very difficult matter, for the expulsion of Austria from Germany was, in reality, a source of strength to Austria, and she had no grievances in the way of a loss of territory to keep alive embittered sentiments. ANOTHER EXPLOIT OF THE LORDS.

A few days since we gave a few items of the account between the Canal Department of New York and the Lord family, showing the thrift of the latter. But there is another side to the case, which exhibits still further the thrift of this remarkable family. Jarvis Lord, who is the lord of the Lords, persuaded the Canal board to designate the Bank of Monroe, at Rochester, as the sole depository of the tolls collected at that city, amounting to a great many thousands of dollars annually. These funds lie in bank sometimes thirty, sometimes ninety days, or even longer. A little while ago, it began to be whispered about that this bank was owned mostly by the Lord family, whereupon there were indignant denials that such was the case. But the denials did not satisfy the curious and suspicious assailants of the Lords, and they insisted upon gratifying their curiosity, and either allaying their suspicions or turning them into positive knowledge, by means of an examination of the stock-books of the concern. The result has not been such as to reflect the highest credit on the veracity of the Lords who denied their ownership of the bank. In fact, their reputation for business sagacity has been somewhat benefited at the expense of their reputation for truthfulness. The stock of the Monroe Bank is $100,000, of which Jarvis Lord holds $52,500; Anna E. Lord and Zilpha Lord, members of his family, respectively $1,000 and $1,500; William Mudgett, partner of Jarvis Lord in the Canal contracts, $13,000; Mrs. Mudgett, $1,000. Here is a total of $69,000, out of $100,000, held by the Lords and their next friends.

That is a bad showing. But there are some other points in the exhibit, that look even worse. The exhibit shows further that some thousands of dollars of the remaining stock, are held by canal commissioners and canal engineers. The ring is complete. The commissioners and the Lords first figure together on canal contracts, and figure in such a way that the Lords rake in somewhere between $400,000 and $500,000 clear stealings on their contracts. Then they organize a bank in which the commissioners and the Lords divide the stock among themselves. Into this bank the commissioners order all the funds of the canal department that fall within that district, and then it needn't be ordered out till the bank has turned it over a time or two. Thus they plunder the public treasury with both hands at once. They deposit the public money with themselves as long as they care to use it, and then cover it into their own private coffers by means of swindling contracts.

JUDGE DENNY'S LEGAL OPINION IN THE BULLETIN.

The Bulletin appears to consider any intimation of the possibility of a member of the ring being mistaken as to any matter of law or fact, as an offense to be resented with the utmost promptness. The OREGONIAN, have expressed the opinion, in commenting on a communication, that Judge Denny could not lawfully hold the office of Police Judge and that of Collector of Revenue at the same time, under our consitution, the Bulletin flies into a passion and exhausts itself in feeble resentment. Just why it should be so angry does not very clearly appear. It is true Judge Denny is one of Mr. Holladay's directors in the Bulletin Publishing Company, and it might be reasonably expected that paper would take up the cudgel for him if anything unkind were said of him; but we had supposed a suggestion of the possibility of his being in error was about as proper a thing, as the same suggestion concerning the opinion or conduct of any other judicial offier would be. If we expressed the opinion that Judge Shattuck or Judge Deady had mistaken the law, we should hardly expect these gentlemen, or any considerate friend of theirs, to take exceptions. It seems the distinguished jurist who occupies the position of police magistrate of this city, takes a different view of the case so far as relates to himself, denying the right of any one to suppose he could be in error.

The police judge's mouthpiece says it is true there may be some question as to his right to hold the Federal office of Revenue Collector and the office of Police Judge; but that there are two sides to the question, "as the office of Police Judge is merely an office under the city charter." Pshaw! Is not the charter of Portland a general law under the Constitution, Article IV, sec. 27? And general or special, is not the office of Police Judge, an office created by this State? And besides all this, is not the Police Judge also a justice of the peace and committing magistrate of the State? And is not this office lucrative to the amount of thousands of dollars annually? Two sides to the question: are there two sides to the question whether two and two make four?

PARDONED TO BE USED AS A WITNESS.

The recent pardon of James H. Ingersoll, one of the Tammany ring, who was convicted and sent to prison, excited a good deal of curiosity and called forth many remarks not altogether complimentary to Gov. Tilden. It turns out, however, that the motive inspiring the exercise of executive clemency is, the desire to qualify Ingersoll to testify in the further proceedings instituted against Boss Tweed to recover the property stolen by him from the public. Gen. Barlow, attorney for the commonwealth, expresses great confidence in being able, through the testimony of Ingersoll, to unearth and recapture a large amount of the plunder which Tweed buried by means of sham conveyances, when it became probable his crimes were soon to be found out. It seems Ingersoll has made a clean breast of the whole matter, and his testimony will be so strongly fortified by corroborative circumstances that it will be quite impossible to break him down.

In this matter, Governor Tilden is taking a lively interest—which is probably in no wise diminished by the fight which the Tammany crowd are making against him on account of his raid on the Canal ring. Be his motive what it may, he is fully embarked in a campaign against both the thieving rings, and, with the able support of the same influences that overthrew the city ring, he is pressing matters with commendable vigor. The release of Ingersoll, after he has already borne a heavy punishment; and the receiving through this means of evidence, to deprive the chief scoundrel of the products of his dishonest practices, will be, in truth, making the law a terror to evil-doers.

THE PER CENT. OF GAIN FROM HOME MANUFACTURES TO OUR INDUSTRIAL INTERESTS.

Third Article.

Having spoken of this gain to the business activity, and to the increase of confidence in our business—which is itself the best capital—we speak in the third place of its direct effect upon our industrial interests.

Employment is the prime source of prosperity. The largest per cent. of values of all kinds of goods is the labor of producing them and putting them in the hands of the consumer. The chief value of cordwood is the labor of cutting and hauling it. The materials for a pair of boots or a coat, or a plow, or a wagon, or a stove or a book-case, or a rifle, or a knife, or a watch cost but very little. Their worth is in the skill and toil of the artisan, and the cost of exchange. An acre of wheat well cultivated brings the farmer, possibly, 33½ bushels, or one ton. Delivered at the port of shipment, it brings him $1 37 per cwt., or $27 40. It costs him about $16 50 to raise a ton and put it on board a ship. If he raises only 20 bushels per acre, or 1,200 lbs., he gets $16 44, or hardly the cost of his labor.

The best cedar, for tubs and buckets, brings, at the Oregon City factory, $8 per cord; but goods worth several times that sum are produced from a cord. Wool costs 50 cents per pound, but broadcloth made of it is worth $2 or $3 per pound. In a word, when we buy a stock of goods, or a carload of machinery, or an invoice of hardware or furniture, or a cargo of surgar or rice, we pay from 70 to 90 per cent. for the labor and transportation—which is labor—and only 10 to 30 per cent. for the material. Your baker, and butcher, and shoe maker, and blacksmith, will tell you that all they make is on their labor and skill.

Increase your industries, employ every man and woman and child, and you will create values faster than crops can grow or miners can wash out the gold. Home manufactures furnish the opportunities for your idle hands. For instance, Oregon has 40,000 children of school age, between 4 and 20 years. Large ranks of them pass annually into manhood and womanhood. Few ways are open for them to make a living. It is hard for a man to find trades for his boys or places for his girls. We have a few foundries in which a few apprentices are permitted to learn a trade; one or two furniture manufacturing establishments that take from two to eight boys each; three or four factories that employ from ten to thirty lads and girls; and tin shops, and blacksmith shops, shoe shops, wagon shops, a meat market, bakery in every town, a watch maker, a brick yard and tannery here and there that will employ one or two each; but the vast majority must seek work abroad, or keep on the farm or in the woods.

Our sprightly young men hasten to other cities and States that invite labor and encourage the skillful artisan. Our printing establishments have done much to employ lads and teach them a trade, but the general decline reduces their power to help others. Surveying has but a narrow field, that will soon be closed up. School teaching offers annually new places, but finds a larger annual increase of well prepared teachers. Clerks are more numerous than places for them. Looking on all sides, we have not work enough for our growing children. Add to these the immigrants whom we invite by every argument to our northwest coast, we find that a large per cent. of the people must be idle. They cannot all cut wood, for the demand is soon met and sales cannot be made. They cannot all raise potatoes or apples, for the market is quickly supplied. They cannot all produce wool, or hen's eggs, or salmon, or beef, or pork, or wheat or oats; for it is easy to overstock the market. All mouths are easily filled with food in our prolific climate and from our abundant resources of land and river. And when this condition happens, there is a stagnation of business, and a new chill of idleness settling over dull streets and gloomy houses.

But extend home manufactures to supply all wants, and to employ all hands, and every finger-touch will put value upon something that before was worthless. The gentlemen who have begun to make glue and neatsfoot oil and curled hair, have set a noble example of what can be done. A new tannery is a double benefit, in saving us from importing leather, and in setting men and boys to work in getting bark and tanning the hides. Every anvil and lap-stone in use adds value to otherwise useless material. Every table or bedstead or bureau made from our own woods confers a double benefit upon the people, giving them employment on the one hand and comfort on the other. The Oregon Furniture Manufacturing Company, now established in Portland, as estimated, saves $50,000 per annum to the State that would be paid for such goods to other States, and thus develop nearly this amount of labor and skill among ourselves that would otherwise be idle, or be lost to us.

The Oregon City and Salem factories put on the market several hundred thousand dollars worth of goods annually, as the product of labor and skill and power applied that was before useless.

An instance of the value of home manufactures appeared as an item in the daily paper of the 22d. A gentleman from San Francisco imports gloves made there, and undersells the English gloves, even in Victoria, their own market, after paying a duty of seventeen per cent. Many people buy and wear gloves. All credit to San Franciscans, who make them instead of importing them.

Two or three wealthy men of that city have begun to manufacture the Cornell watch, employing many artisans and many girls. People buy watches freely. It is a noble thing to make them at home.

Samuel Williston, of Easthampton, early lost his health, and could not continue his studies and fit himself for professional life. He was poor, both before and after his marriage. His wife began to cover buttons and sell them for support. He united in the work. The business increased, and new and quicker processes were invented and more laborers and machinery employed. At length his importations of cloth became so large that he cut his covers in England to save a part of the duty. A village grew up around his shops. An academy was founded by him. Hundreds of pupils are yearly taught, many fitted for college, others for business. Amherst college has received a large endowment from his industry. Churches and ministers have been largely supported by his industries. Families of the poor have been reared to profitable trades and to affluence by this single business of button making. Most people buy buttons. It is a gain to have them made in your own neighborhood.

We want matches to light lamps and fires, if not cigars. He is a benefactor, who makes them and puts them up near your own door. He ought to have your trade, instead of the man 600 or 5,000 miles off.

Bonaparte said that England's manufacturers, not her soldiers, conquered his continental armies. England has employed all her people and controlled the commerce and the markets of the world. She draws her wealth out of the bone and sinew and brain of her industrious artizans. New England has learned to do the same. The tier of States westward to the Mississippi have begun to produce at home what they had bought from others. Georgia follows in that path. California takes rapid strides in supplying her own and other markets with home made goods. Riches abide and accumulate with them all. Oregon and Washington must do the same, if they would save money and gain more.

The Washington Chronicle, speaking of the recent decision of the Supreme Court of the United States, wherein it was held that the amendments to the constitution do not confer the right of suffrage on women, says:

> Probably no sound lawyer in the whole country will be surprised at this result. But this will not settle the question of the expediency or wisdom of female suffrage.

In both of which propositions we concur. The advocacy of the cause of woman suffrage has been directed in channels that made it inefficient and weak by a few shallow lawyers, whose crude and unreasoned opinions set the friends of the cause to demanding suffrage as an already established legal right instead of urging the wisdom of establishing it by law.

A correspondent at Eugene writes to inquire whether or not there was introduced into the last Legislature a bill to regulate fares and freights on the Oregon and California railway. There was no bill for that road specially, but there was a bill introduced to regulate freights and fares on all railways in Oregon, that one, of course, included. It was a House bill, and never reached its third reading, if we remember rightly.

The resignation of Attorney General Williams is announced in the dispatches, to take effect May 15th, and his intimate friends are reported to have said he is coming back to Oregon to make a contest for a seat in the Senate. It may be he has this course in contemplation, but, if so, it is safe to say he has not authorized any friend to announce the fact.

Langley's Directory of San Francisco, for 1875, sets down the population of that city at over 230,000, which the San Francisco Bulletin considers about 30,000 beyond the facts.

CITY.

EXTENSIVE MINING OPERATIONS.—George E[illegible] Strong, a young gentleman well known here, who was connected with this paper for some time, is now sojourning in California. We are in receipt of a letter written by him under date of San Francisco, April 15th, from which we make the following extract in relation to the extensive mining operations being carried on in the northern part of California. Mr. Strong says: "On my first arrival I only remained in San Francisco two or three days. Since that time I have visited Northern California; have seen many new and wonderful things, and enjoyed myself immensely. Perhaps I spent my pleasantest day at Cherokee Flat, away up in the Sierras, or at the foot of them. They carry on hydraulic mining there on an immense scale. Some of their operations are astounding. They are operating on an immense hill, which is said to be the richest placer mine in the world. The day before I was there they had cleared up, after six weeks' run, and realized $73,000 clea[illegible] They are millionaires up there. I saw some of the diamonds found on the Flat. They are handsome, although not as large as some—the largest being worth only about $500. The hill is yielding very slowly, although they sluice tons upon tons of dirt every day. The wat[illegible] shoots with tremendous force from three no[illegible] zles known as "The Three Chiefs." When it leaves the pipe it is well nigh solid, and nothing can withstand it. It overturns huge boulders as children play with marbles. It hurls to an incredible distance rocks weighing a hundred pounds. I stood for hours gazing in wonderment. The water is brought fifteen miles in an iron pipe thirty-two inches in diameter. In one place it is forced up a hillside, as nearly vertical as you can imagine, nine hundred feet. Isn't that wonderful? Of course this has cost them millions of dollars, but so rich have the owners grown, and on so e[illegible] a scale have they planned their fut[illegible] tions, that they have expended rece[illegible] million dollars in buying up farms [illegible] ley below, on which to run their [illegible] Standing on the hills you look upon white river of boulders, stretching aw[illegible] miles to the west. Here are the tailings."

MONTE CHAPS.—On Wednesday afternoon three monte sharpers took the eastside train bound south. Very soon after leaving [illegible] depot, the ringleader managed to draw [illegible] sophisticated emigrant into the toils [illegible] engaged in explaining the beauty [illegible] rious workings of the three-card [illegible] when Conductor George Washin[illegible] came around looking after the f[illegible] gave one glance over the sharp's shou[illegible] comprehended the situation. Witho[illegible] ing a word, George went forward and ga[illegible] engineer instructions to halt at the nex[illegible] tion. In a few minutes the train reached the station and stopped, when the conductor came back to the monte sharp, who, by that time, was getting his emigrant friend deeply interested. Planting his hand in no ve[illegible] gentle manner on the sharp's shou[illegible] George remarked with great composure: [illegible] ness, Mr. , we don't want any of you[illegible] kind on this train. Your will confer a favor on the undersigned by taking a walk." Mr. Sharp attempted to reason and explain, but George was inexorable. The monte fellow then got upon his "dig," and remarked: "I don't know whether I'll get off or not; I pa[illegible] my fare." "Well, I know," said S[illegible] "you just get, in double quick." So [illegible] the conductor escorted the sharp to [illegible] form and "elevated" him with a pa[illegible] 10 brogans, landing him on terra firma. [illegible] time, the other two pals seeing the [illegible] into which their leader had fallen, [illegible] slunk away and stepped off without a w[illegible] These sweet-scented chaps had to foot it to the city without making a cent for [illegible] labor.

FROM YAKIMA.—A correspondent [illegible] from Fort Simcoe under date of the 1[illegible] to the Advocate, says: "Daylight brok[illegible] us last Sunday morning in the mi[illegible] ular December snow storm. By [illegible] there was about four inches of snow [illegible] ground. It continued snowing the great[illegible] of the day, but melted so fast that there [illegible] but little on the ground at night. On M[illegible] morning the snow was about two [illegible] inches deep, but the storm had ceas[illegible] nearly all disappeared before night. On T[illegible] day, the 6th, we had a shaking up in [illegible] of an earthquake, which was abou[illegible] as the one in December, 1872. Some [illegible] was harder. There were three shocks. [illegible] first was at 3:30 o'clock, which lasted ab[illegible] eight or ten seconds, and made the [illegible] tremble and creak sufficiently to [illegible] some persons quite badly, and create a[illegible] ment among all at the post. Fi[illegible] later there was another light [illegible] third shock, at fifteen minutes [illegible] was harder than the first, and [illegible] about twice as long. Father Wilbur [illegible] on the 26th of March. Peace [illegible] prevail among us. The emplo[illegible] fully attending to their work. [illegible] Indians are busily engaged in putt[illegible] crops. There is still a good degree of [illegible] interest here. Sixteen Indians [illegible] the church on trial since I last rep[illegible] ing 63 in all since Dec. 24th."

P. D. & S. L. R. R.—The Mountain Sentin[illegible] of April 18th says: Hon. Daniel Chapl[illegible] ly permits us to publish the following le[illegible] from Col. Chapman, which speaks for itself.

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.

HON. DANIEL CHAPLIN—Dear Sir: You have learned, no doubt, that propositions, modified to suit our contract, have been sent to England for ratification. Mr. Leonard, of Portland, just returned from England, writes me from New York that he saw our parties, [illegible] with them, and that they are first-cla[illegible] road men, much pleased with the en[illegible] I shall see you and the people on the [illegible] home. My respects to my old friends. [illegible] start in three days.

Yours truly, W. W. CHAPMAN.

TRIAL TRIP.—With colors gaily streaming [illegible] the wind the O. S. N. Co.'s new and elegant steamer, Bonita steamed from the bone yar[illegible] yesterday and turned her prow up the r[illegible] She touched at the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf, [illegible] then started down the river on her [illegible] trip. After running down nearly to [illegible] mouth of the Wallamet the Bonita returned [illegible] the city. There are no more handsome [illegible] egantly appointed boats now on the river [illegible] the Bonita. Her model is faultless, an[illegible] point of speed she bids fair to distance [illegible] most rapid competitors. It has not been [illegible] termined yet on what line the Bonita is to b[illegible] placed.

SILVER PLATES.—Mention was made a short time ago of the silver plates being received [illegible] Willamette Co. No. 1, from the Linn County Agricultural Society. These plates were awarded the Company by the Society for having on exhibition their fine new steam fire engine and hosecart at the fair given at Albany last fall. We understand that the offi[illegible] cers of the Society have employed Mr. L. [illegible] Henrichsen, the well-known jeweler, to properly engrave the plates prior to their formal presentation to the Company. The medals will, when finished, be exquisite pieces of workmanship.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Mr. C. Cardinell, a cripple, fell from an express wagon Wednesday afternoon, thereby sustaining severe injuries. He was sitting in a three-legged chair on the wagon when, as the vehicle jolted against a crosswalk, the chair tilted, throwing Mr. Cardinell over the top on to the ground, causing him to shriek with pain. He was put into the wagon, carried home and medical assistance at once procured. His condition at present [illegible] critical, although the wounds are not quite so serious as was at first supposed.

RICH ORE.—Mr. J. H. Fisk has just received a piece of galena which was taken from [illegible] ledge within one mile and a half of The Dalles. It is very rich in silver and it is believed will pay largely. The result of the assay will be known in a few days. A piece of ore from a ledge discovered near Granite creek, Grant county, was sent to Mr. Fisk several days ago, to be assayed. We understand the test was very satisfactory, the yield being $40[illegible] per ton.

HAND THEM IN.—County Assessor Barnard is now ready and desirous of receiving statements of property from the taxpayers of the county. Blanks have been furnished property holders, which they are requested to fill and return to the assessor. This should be attended to at once, as procrastination may result [illegible] trouble.

FRIDAY MORNING, APRIL 23, 1875.

CITY.

EXTENSIVE MINING OPERATIONS.—George E. Strong, a young gentleman well known here, who was connected with this paper for some time, is now sojourning in California. We are in receipt of a letter written by him under date of San Francisco, April 15th, from which we make the following extract in relation to the extensive mining operations being carried on in the northern part of California. Mr. Strong says: "On my first arrival I only remained in San Francisco two or three days. Since that time I have visited Northern California; have seen many new and wonderful things, and enjoyed myself immensely. Perhaps I spent my pleasantest day at Cherokee Flat, away up in the Sierras, or at the foot of them. They carry on hydraulic mining there on an immense scale. Some of their operations are astounding. They are operating on an immense hill, which is said to be the richest placer mine in the world. The day before I was there they had cleared up, after a six weeks' run, and realized $73,000 clear. They are millionaires up there. I saw some of the diamonds found on the Flat. They are handsome, although not as large as some—the largest being worth only about $500. The hill is yielding very slowly, although they sluice tons upon tons of dirt every day. The water shoots with tremendous force from three nozzles known as "The Three Chiefs." When it leaves the pipe it is well nigh solid, and nothing can withstand it. It overturns huge boulders as children play with marbles. It hurls to an incredible distance rocks weighing a hundred pounds. I stood for hours gazing in wonderment. The water is brought fifteen miles in an iron pipe thirty-two inches in diameter. In one place it is forced up a hillside, as nearly vertical as you can imagine, nine hundred feet. Isn't that wonderful? Of course this has cost them millions of dollars, but so rich have the owners grown, and on so extensive a scale have they planned their future operations, that they have expended recently a half million dollars in buying up farms in the valley below, on which to run their tailings. Standing on the hills you look upon a wide white river of boulders, stretching away ten miles to the west. Here are the tailings."

MONTE CHAPS.—On Wednesday afternoon three monte sharpers took the eastside train bound south. Very soon after leaving the depot, the ringleader managed to draw an unsophisticated emigrant into the toils, and was engaged in explaining the beauty and mysterious workings of the three-card monte trick, when Conductor George Washington Stroud came around looking after the fares. George gave one glance over the sharp's shoulder and comprehended the situation. Without uttering a word, George went forward and gave the engineer instructions to halt at the next station. In a few minutes the train reached the station and stopped, when the conductor came back to the monte sharp, who, by that time, was getting his emigrant friend deeply interested. Planting his hand in no very gentle manner on the sharp's shoulder, he remarked with great composure: "I guess, Mr. ——, we don't want any of your kind on this train. You will confer a favor on the undersigned by taking a walk." Mr. Sharp attempted to reason and explain, but George was inexorable. The monte fellow then got upon his "dig," and remarked: "I don't know whether I'll get off or not; I paid my fare." "Well, I know," said Stroud, "you just get, in double quick." So saying, the conductor escorted the sharp to the platform and "elevated" him with a pair of No. 10 brogans, landing him on terra firma. Meantime the other two pals seeing the difficulty into which their leader had fallen, quietly slunk away and stepped off without a word. These sweet scented chaps had to foot it back to the city without making a cent for their [illegible]

FORT YAKIMA.—A correspondent writing from Fort Simcoe under date of the 18th inst., to the Advocate, says: "Daylight broke upon us last Sunday morning in the midst of a regular December snow storm. By 9 o'clock there was about four inches of snow on the ground. It continued snowing the greater part of the day, but melted so fast that there was but little on the ground at night. On Monday morning the snow was about two and a half inches deep, but the storm had ceased and it nearly all disappeared before night. On Tuesday, the 6th, we had a shaking up in the shape of an earthquake, which was about as severe as the one in December, 1872. Some think it was harder. There were three shocks. The first was at 3:30 o'clock, which lasted about eight or ten seconds, and made the houses tremble and creak sufficiently to frighten some persons quite badly, and create an excitement among all at the post. Five minutes after there was another light shock. The third shock, at fifteen minutes after 4 o'clock, was harder than the first, and lasted about twice as long. Father Wilbur reached home on the 26th of March. Peace and harmony prevail among us. The employes are faithfully attending to their work. Many of the Indians are busily engaged in putting in their crops. There is still a good degree of religious interest here. Sixteen Indians have joined the church on trial since I last reported, making 63 in all since Dec. 24th."

P. D. & S. L. R. R.—The Mountain Sentinel of April 18th says: Hon. Daniel Chaplin kindly permits us to publish the following letter from Col. Chapman, which speaks for itself:

WASHINGTON, D. C., March 28.

HON. DANIEL CHAPLIN—Dear Sir: You have learned, no doubt, that propositions, modified to suit our contract, have been sent to England for ratification. Mr. Leonard, of Portland, just returned from England, writes me from New York that he saw our parties, talked with them, and that they are first-class railroad men, much pleased with the enterprise. I shall see you and the people on the way home. My respects to my old friends. I shall start in three days.

Yours truly, W. W. CHAPMAN.

TRIAL TRIP.—With colors gaily streaming in the wind the O. S. N. Co.'s new and elegant steamer Bonita steamed from the bone-yard yesterday and turned her prow up the river. She touched at the O. S. N. Co.'s wharf, and then started down the river on her maiden trip. After running down nearly to the mouth of the Wallamet the Bonita returned to the city. There are no more handsome or elegantly appointed boats now on the river than the Bonita. Her model is faultless, and in point of speed she bids fair to distance her most rapid competitors. It has not been determined yet on what line the Bonita is to be placed.

SILVER PLATES.—Mention was made a short time ago of the silver plates being received by Willamette Co. No. 1, from the Linn County Agricultural Society. These plates were awarded the Company by the Society for having on exhibition their fine new steam fire engine and hose cart at the fair given at Albany last fall. We understand that the officers of the Society have employed Mr. L. C. Henrichsen, the well-known jeweler, to properly engrave the plates prior to their formal presentation to the Company. The medals will, when finished, be exquisite pieces of workmanship.

PAINFUL ACCIDENT.—Mr. C. Cardinell, a cripple, fell from an express wagon Wednesday afternoon, thereby sustaining severe injuries. He was sitting in a three-legged chair on the wagon when, as the vehicle jolted against a crosswalk, the chair tilted, throwing Mr. Cardinell over the top on to the ground, causing him to shriek with pain. He was put into the wagon, carried home and medical assistance at once procured. His condition at present is critical, although the wounds are not quite so serious as was at first supposed.

RICH ONE.—Mr. J. H. Fisk has just received a piece of galena which was taken from a ledge within one mile and a half of The Dalles. It is very rich in silver and it is believed will pay largely. The result of the assay will be known in a few days. A piece of ore from a ledge discovered near Granite creek, Grant county, was sent to Mr. Fisk several days ago, to be assayed. We understand the test was very satisfactory, the yield being $100 per ton.

HAND THEM IN.—County Assessor Barnard is now ready and desirous of receiving statements of property from the taxpayers of this county. Blanks have been furnished property holders, which they are requested to fill and return to the assessor. This should be attended to at once, as procrastination may result in trouble.

TAMMANY DAY.—The following are the names of the different committees appointed for the annual picnic to be given by the Red Men of this city on Tammany Day: Grounds—E. J. Jeffery, J. Farrow and J. P. Schroeffel. Conveyances—W. H. Williams, J. Ewery and H. Ludwig. Programme—R. Schmeer, S. S. Bowman and G. C. Sears. Printing—W. S. Stevens, S. S. Bowman and R. Schmeer. Music—J. Liddy, G. C. Sears and J. P. Schoeffel. The following are the names of the officers of the day: E. J. Jeffery, grand marshal; John Ewery, treasurer; S. S. Bowman, secretary; W. A. Williams, president.

WEATHER REPORT.—From the records of the U. S. Signal Station of Observation, Portland, Oregon, April 22, 1875:

	7 A. M.	2 P. M.	9 P. M.
Thermometer	50°	65°	54°

MACHINERY SHIPPED.—The Journal says: "The machinery heretofore employed in the boot and shoe manufactory of Smith, Chaplain & Co. is being shipped to Salem, where it will be used by the penitentiary convicts. A few of the workmen employed by the late firm will go to the capital city with the machinery, and will instruct the convicts in the manner of its use."

THE "PORTLAND."—This little craft belonging to Capt. Fred. Wilson, which was launched on Monday, has been brought down to the foot of E street. The boiler was being placed in yesterday, to be followed soon by the engine and machinery.

MESSAGES.—There are messages uncalled for at the Western Union Telegraph Company for H. F. Morse, and H. MacDonald.

BRIEF NOTES.

A popular conundrum: "Can you spell—"

This is fine "growing weather" for the farmers.

The Bremen bark Gazelle, from Europe, has arrived.

The welcome rain cooled the atmosphere last night.

The hotels are crowded this week with Eastern arrivals.

More persons go crazy from physical than mental causes.

The salmon fisheries down the river are doing a big business.

Look out for three-card monte chaps. Several of them are around.

The gymnasium for the instruction of pupils is now open at Turners' Hall.

The commissary department is engaged in shipping large supplies for Fort Lapwai.

The Ben Holladay will probably tow the Melancthon down the river this morning.

Over 1,800 dry beef hides will be shipped this evening on the steamer for San Francisco.

Mr. O'Shea will open stalls 22 and 23, Central Market, on May 1st, with fresh meats, etc.

No Eastern mails last night. The floods on the Union Pacific will cause their detention for some days.

The steamer Oriflamme and J. Gussie Telfair will both sail for their respective destinations this evening.

Quite a number of familiar faces are again observable on the streets—absentees returned to favored Oregon.

East Portland, so it is reported, has a fellow who fires off a pistol every night about twelve o'clock. He is the most popular (?) man in that neighborhood.

Vegetables of the California kind failed to put in their usual appearance upon the arrival of the steamer. We will take some of the "Webfoot" article soon.

The usual Union Temperance meeting will be held this evening at the Baptist church, under the auspices of the Women's Prayer League. The public is cordially invited to attend.

STIKINE NEWS.

The following is an extract from a recent letter from Stikine. It bears date of April 1, and says:

The rush to Cassiar has already commenced. It is estimated that about 500 have either passed or are now on the ice hauling sleds up the river, bound for the diggings. The weather on the lower part of the river has been severely cold and stormy. Many suffered by slight frost-bites on fingers, noses, ears, etc., but nothing very serious. There was also much suffering from snow blindness. Many men punish themselves severely by attempting to haul too heavy loads of provisions.

The embargo of the American Customs at Fort Wrangel still exists as last year. All miners are charged fifty cents each for passing, while any articles of merchandise have to be bonded at considerable cost and expense. The following charges were made last year:

Entry for transportation	$1 50
Clearance 50c, permits $1, bonds	2 00
Entry of merchandise for warehouse	1 50
Storage and lighterage $16, oath 50c, blanks $1.	17 50
	$22 50

The above charges were made on about 4½ tons of goods. The charges on smaller lots would be the same, except the storage and lighterage. Besides these charges there is entailed an incalculable amount of annoyance and trouble on any one who has any merchandise for Cassiar.

Those who wintered on this upper part of the river unite in saying that it is the most pleasant winter climate in any part of British Columbia.

The animals wintered here have done very well, and will survive with very little loss.

ORTHOGRAPHICAL.

A spelling bee will take place this evening at the Hall street church.

This evening there will be a spelling match in East Portland under the auspices of the Baptist Mission Sabbath-School, at the Odd Fellows' Hall. The Pacific Coast Speller will be used. Ice cream will be used during the evening.

Even the small school children have contracted the mania, and are tossing words at each other. The following conversation occurred between two small children—a girl and boy—who were returning home from school a few evening since: Says the boy: "I wish I was home." "Why?" quoth the girl. "Why, then I would have some bread with molasses on it." "I'll bet you can't spell molasses," said the girl. "Well, I know that I can't," replied the boy; "and I'll bet that you can't either." "Yes I can; that's an easy word to spell." "Well, then, let us hear you," said the boy. After a moment's hesitation, the girl began "Mall-lass-siss; there, now!" she said, with a triumphant toss of her head. That was a poser.

BUSINESS NOTICES.

Mr. S. Sherlock, whose advertisement can be found in another column, has now on hand a very large and choice lot of saddles, harness, saddlery hardware, etc., etc. The special attention of farmers is called to his advertisement.

A rare opportunity to purchase the fixtures of a first class drug store is offered by Mr. Wm. Pfunder, that gentleman being about to occupy a new store, and having no further use for the furniture, etc., at the stand now occupied by him.

POLICE COURT NOTES.

A man named Horner found lying drunk, was gathered in, and will be tried this morning.

Ellen Robinson, proprietress of a second class bagnio, for being drunk was fined $15, which she cheerfully (?) liquidated.

The case of Joe Lafferty, charged with assault and battery, will come up for trial this morning. Defendant is out on bail.

Michael McCormick for committing an assault on Henry Steinberg, was fined $5 and cost and failing to liquidate was committed to jail.

In a communication to the La Grande Sentinel, George Coggan offers to run his horse Osceola against Wm. Bigham's Foster, on the Union County Agricultural Society's race-course, on Monday, July 5th, for $2,500, gold coin. First: Mile heats, best three in five, with $1,000 up as forfeit with some responsible man; balance day of the race. Second: Ten days from that time to run him a single dash of two miles for the same amount, and same conditions as first race. Run to rules of the Bay District Fair Grounds Association, San Francisco, in every particular.

RELIGIOUS INTELLIGENCE.

RELIGIOUS, LOCAL, PERSONAL AND GENERAL.

[From the P. C. Advocate.]

Many of our readers, especially in this city, will remember Bros. Moore and Blake, who were traveling on this coast, and were in Portland about three years ago—live business men and active laymen in the church of God. We learn by a private letter that Bro. Moore has been preaching the word with power at different points, and that latterly, at St. Johnsbury, Vermont, quite an extensive revival was promoted by his labors. The great scale manufactory of Fairbanks & Co. was used in which to hold meetings. Hundreds were converted, business was suspended and all were interested.

Bishop Peck, writing to the California Advocate from Nevada, under date of March 29th, says: "While I am here I intend to divide my time as fairly as possible within the four conferences, California, Nevada, Oregon and Eastern Oregon. At this time I am prepared to give only a general idea of my plans, subject to such modifications as circumstances may require. I intend to spend the month of April and the first of May in central California. In May I intend to visit Nevada; June, northern California, enroute for Oregon; July, Oregon; August, Eastern Oregon and Washington."

[From the Sentinel.]

Four Sisters of the Order of the Most Holy Names will leave this city to-morrow (Friday) morning for the purpose of taking charge of the establishment recently erected for them at Baker City.

On last Wednesday morning at half-past 6 o'clock, Sister Mary Lazarus, of the Order of the Holy Names of Jesus and Mary, died at the convent in this city. Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated for the repose of the soul of the deceased Religeuse by His Grace, the Most Rev. Archbishop Blanchet, in St. Mary's Chapel, Thursday. Present, in the sanctuary we noticed Rev. P. McCormick, Rev. P. F. Gibney, Rev. L. Verhaag and Rev. C. Thibeau.

CHINESE CONCERT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE OREGONIAN:

During the six month's school taught for the Chinese, under the auspices of the Baptist church in this city, the scholars have learned to sing many religious songs in English, to read with more or less fluency, and to answer questions from various Bible topics. It is proposed by the managers of the school, to present the result of their work, together with a general report of the school from the beginning, and its policy for the future, in a concert exercise, to be held in the church on Monday evening, April 26th. Chinese and English songs will be given by the Chinese—both as a school and in classes or solos. Class exercises, presented, and music furnished by the various teachers and officers of the school. An admission of 25 cents will be charged, the proceeds of which will be applied to the payment of the organ now used in the Chinese school.

D. J. P.

The Olympia Echo says: "On Monday afternoon, while Mr. Fine was passing over the Swantown bridge with a wagon heavily loaded with wood, one of the main stringers of the bridge gave way, when there was a general smashing of timbers and planks, and the wagon, together with the team and driver, narrowly escaped being precipitated in a common mass of rubbish and ruins. Fortunately the wagon was caught by some bracing timbers, and the hind feet of the horses rested down on a couple of planks till Mr. Fine severed the tugs, when the team escaped uninjured."

Some kind hearted outsider tried to help Dan Burns, who is in jail at Oregon City, to escape, by furnishing him with an iron bar and a chisel, but the sheriff nipped the matter and put Daniel in an iron cell, so that he will be protected from outside interference.

PLUMMER'S CALIFORNIA FRUIT-DRYER.—M. E. Spaulding, agent for these machines, may be found at the Carendon Hotel until Monday, April 26th. He is ready to make contracts at once.

The bridge across the Grand Ronde river, at Orodell, is reported to have been washed away.

SOMETHING NEW.

The new style of promenade photographs. These beautiful pictures are now made at Bosco & Megler's new rooms, Nos. 127 and 129, First street. Call and examine them.

During the warm weather there is nothing better nor more cooling than a drink of soda water from Gibson & Co.'s "Arctic."

The observing man must have noted a change in the establishment of BECK & WALDMAN. The last steamer brought them quite a large invoice of Spring Styles, which they are having displayed for the inspection of their numerous customers. They will continue to offer the public the best bargains. As usual the stock of Youth's clothing is varied and parents may find many new things that will be sure to please. Drop in this evening.

M. ROSENBLATT, Clothier, has just returned from San Francisco with a large Stock of Spring Goods—particularly Boys' and Youths' Clothing, at lower rates than ever. Call and see before purchasing. The store is No. 79 Front street.

PLEASURE BOATS.

I have a number of Sail and Row Boats ready at any moment to let at reasonable charges. Boats made to order.

The Signs of Health.

Health invariable declares itself by visible signs. A person with a sallow, haggard visage and attenuated frame may declare that he is "in perfect health," but if he does, don't believe him, for he is not. His looks belie him, and his asservation is mere bravado. Few persons, except hypochondriacs, desire to be thought unwell. A fresh complexion, a clear leanness, indicate that their possessor enjoys good digestion, sound sleep and a vigorous circulation, three essentials of health which are fortunately not beyond the reach of invalids. The surest medium for their attainment is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which by purifying the blood banish sallowness, and by promoting perfect indigestion and sound sleep, keep the body well nourished, and impart to the face the placid expression indicative of a clear and unwearied mind. The Bitters are far more conducive to good looks than any cosmetic that ever humbugged the credulous.

Take it in Time. Coughs and colds will not wait. They are deceptive, and the patient often imagines himself better even when he has not used the proper treatment for cure. Attend to it at once. WISTAR'S BALSAM OF WILD CHERRY is our oldest cure for these complaints.

THE CASSOWARY'S LUNCH.

[From the Philadelphia Bulletin.]

Rumors being in circulation to the effect that a new consignment of animals for the Zoological Garden has reached this city, a reporter calls at the office of the Society to obtain some information respecting the matter. The Secretary is out, and the office is in charge of a boy, who is sitting with his feet on the stove filing a skate. The following conversation ensues:

Reporter—Anything new at the Garden to-day, sonny?

Boy—Dunno of nothin'. The skeetin' was good yesterday, and I seen a whole lot of fellers goin' in there.

R.—Any lot of animals arrived lately?

B.—I b'lieve not. Leastways I aint heard of any. But I heard the ole man say he hoped they wouldn't bring any more cassowaries.

R.—Why not?

B.—The've got one there now. Leastways, the ole man calls it a cassowary, but I call 'em ostriches. And the ole man says that animal busted loose night afore last and raised hail Columbia; went a scootin' around that garden behaven scandl'ous. Nobody knowed it was loose until mornin', and then it had played hob with things. The ole man says it et all the door-knobs off the monkey-house and the restaurant, and then swallowed six croquet-balls that was piled up by the pump. One of the keepers found an ole hoop-skirt durin' the day and hung it agin' the wall. The ole man says the cassowary must have et that too, and then it broke into a cage and put away two horned owls and a cockatoo, I b'lieve they call it; one of them birds like parrots, any way.

R.—Ate them, do you mean?

B.—That's what the old man said. And then it went boomin' around tastin' almost everything, and it got away with two trace chains on one of the waggins and half a keg of nails that was settin' on the porch. I never knowed them birds had such appetites. But the ole man says they have, and they'll tackle almost anything, and swaller it 'sif it was confectionary. He says he saw one once eat a litter of five pups and then begin on a crowbar 's though it hadn't had nothin' for a month. And this one out yer at the garden, it et the ole man's skeets and two butter-crocks that was in the restaurant winder, and then it stuffed two of the prairie-dogs that happened to be wanderin' about.

R.—Did it seem well afterward?

B.—O, middlin'. But one of the keepers left his revolver layin' on a bench, and the cassowary scooped that in too, and in the mornin', while they was drivin' it into the pen, it ran agin the fence, and two or three explosions, kinder smothered like, was heard growlin' and rumblin' on its insides, and the next minute the smoke came burstin' out of its mouth, and it rolled over and stepped out. The ole man says the jolt must have started that revolver.

R.—Anything else new?

B.—No, nothin'; but you come round yer whenever you want an item. There's most always somethin' goin' on. You see the ole man; he'll 'stonish you with information. Good mornin'.

The Spring time has come, and with it new Goods to our enterprising merchants. The styles are much changed in clothing, and the dull times have worked a change in prices too, so much so, that persons with limited means can invest liberally. J. MY FAITH.

BY JOAQUIN MILLER.

And as to that, I reckon it
But right, but Christian-like and just,
And closer after God's own plan,
To take men as you find your man,
To take a soul from God on trust,
A fit man, or yourself unfit.

To take a man free from the control
Of man's opinion; take a soul
In its own troubled world, all fair
As you behold it then and there,
Set naked in your sight, alone,
Unnamed, unheralded, unknown.

Yes, take him bravely from the hand
That reached him forth from nothingness,
That took his tired soul to keep
All night, then reached him out from sleep
And sat him equal in the land,
Sent out from where the angels are,
A soul new born without one whit
Of bought or borrowed character.

Ah! bless us! if we only could
As ready spin and willing weave
Sweet tales of charity and good;
Could we as willing clip the wings
Of evil tales as pleasant things,
How sweet 'twould then be to believe,
How good 'twould then do as we should,
How good 'twould then be to be good.

CAPTAIN BOYTON.

THE MAN WHO SWAM THE ATLANTIC.

Captain Boyton and two gentlemen, whom he had equipped with suits of his now famous life-preserving dress, journeyed, on Saturday, from Westminster bridge to the Ship Hotel, Greenwich, in the manner which the young American may be said to have made his own. It was a novel way certainly of going out to a fish dinner, and the spectacle attracted tens of thousands of spectators. The dense crowds which lined the Thames embankment, and were packed on Westminster bridge, cheered heartily the three wearers of the India rubber suits as they put off from Westminster pier in a boat, and dropped themselves overboard in the center of the river. The usual fleet of shore boats surrounded the floaters, and followed them so long as they remained in the water, proving themselves, according to their wont, somewhat of an impediment and nuisance. Mr. Boyton, brother of the captain, and impressario-general of the expedition, and a number of friends were on board one of the river steamers, to which the public were admitted on payment of shilling fares, notwithstanding which the boat was soon crowded from stem to stern. A band of music took possession of the deck in midships, the musicians doing their best to interpret "Yankee Doodle" and other American melodies, in honor of the occasion. One of the gentlemen accompanying Captain Boyton was unable to swim, and it says much for the

SIMPLICITY OF THE SUIT

That neither of them had worn it but once before, and then for a short time only. Attention was naturally at first directed to these beginners rather than to their leader, whose performances one soon learns to take as a matter of course, and whose perfect command over his own movements, whatever wind and tide may be, one accepts without doubt, or even surprise after a brief experience of the ease with which he can paddle himself about. The novices, making their debut in the Thames tideway, succeeded at once. The uproar among the boatmen, and the very natural apprehensions that some clumsy wherry might run them down at the start, detracted somewhat from the comfort and assurance which these gentlemen—Messrs. Willis and Morgan—subsequently enjoyed. One of the trio carried a green flag, which was supposed by the crowds on shore to be the national emblem of the Sister Isle, but which in reality was the ensign of an Irish yacht club. The voyage to Greenwich was

A TRIUMPHAL PROGRESS

From first to last. The crowds on the city bridges and all the piers were surprisingly great considering that very little public notice of the exhibition had been given, and the only drawback to the affair as a spectacle was the dismally raw and cold weather. On board the accompanying steamer one of Captain Boyton's old suits was placed for the inspection of any person interested in it, and it soon appeared that numbers of gentlemen had taken tickets for Greenwich for the sole purpose of inspecting the india-rubber garment. Among these were five gentlemen who had been shipwrecked in various parts of the world, and who had therefore a peculiarly deep interest in any invention that promised to save life at sea. Of the broad principles of Captain Boyton's dress they spoke most highly, but there were, as might be expected, occasional differences of opinion upon trifling matters of detail. One gentleman thought the head of the floater being raised considerably would cause serious spinal aching, but Messrs. Willis and Morgan found no such inconvenience, except when they strained the neck in their anxiety to avoid collisions, and paddle a straight course. The air cushion at the back of the head, indeed, answers all the purposes of a comfortable pillow. The impossibility of keeping ordinary india-rubber material from melting on board ship in tropical climates was also mentioned as a point worth considering. Another gentleman was of opinion that in

A MOMENT OF PERIL

From shipwreck a man would probably have neither the time nor presence of mind necessary to properly fasten and inflate the dress; he stated, as a case in point, that he himself was once placed in such a position, and, although he had a life-belt and a cork bed ready at hand in his cabin, he hurried up to the deck and leaped overboard without thinking of either. But, as Mr. Boyton, who readily answered all objections, remarked, there is no safeguard against panic, and there are scores of beneficial purposes to which the apparatus can be applied, besides saving a life threatened by sudden disaster on the ocean. As an illustration, he motioned his brother to approach the steamer, and gave him a line, which, with remarkable swiftness, he conveyed with his teeth to a barge a couple of hundred yards off Opposite the Commercial Docks

THE THREE FLOATERS

Brought to and lunched comfortably in the water. To do this they exchanged the floating for the upright position, and used a small india-rubber boat as table. The spectators, far and near, applauded. Rockets were sent up, the music played, flags waved, and Captain Boyton and his friends, armpit deep in the current, with fathoms of water beneath their feet, drank everybody's health. The trip to Greenwich, including various stoppages to show the merits and uses of the invention, was made in two hours and a quarter, and, at the end of the voyage, the three strange figures walked out of the river, dripping wet outside, but otherwise perfectly dry, marched up the steps, and, paddle in hand, went across to the Ship Hotel to enjoy the dinner they had so well earned. Mr. Willis is a medical man, and he had upon the voyage made experiments to test the effect of the dress upon the temperature of the body. His tests were not so complete as he would like them to be, but, taking one thing with another, it was found that there had been a very slight perceptible change during the two hours' immersion, the difference, if anything, showing that the body becomes warmer, and not colder. All swimmers know that it is only the numbness caused by cold that prevents them from swimming indefinitely long distances; with the Boyton apparatus—and it is a most important feature of it—there is no such obstacle. Captain Boyton intends to cross the channel at the earliest opportunity. The accounts of his performances in the Thames have attracted a good deal of attention on the Continent, and brought him several pressing invitations from France and Belgium.

Financial and trade affairs to-day exhibit a fair degree of activity and bid to make up a reasonably large aggregate for the week. The city banks are doing the usual amount of discount business, which has not been a large one, on an average, during the season. Rates vary but little from day to day, and what was true of monetary matters yesterday or last week would not be far from correct to-day.

Merchants doing a wholesale and jobbing business are receiving a fair amount of patronage, and indications of prosperity in trade circles are becoming more and more manifest. The same spirit of conservatism or carefulness mentioned some time ago is still maintained, and buyers who are prompt in their remittances are favored in the market and find, on second transactions, their promptness redounding to their own advantage. A lively competition in the dry goods trade enables buyers of stocks to secure easy terms and good bargains. Groceries are also moving as briskly as could be expected, as are boots and shoes, of which there are large and finely assorted stocks in the market.

The two large firms of Knapp, Burrell & Co. and Hawley, Dodd & Co., dealing in agricultural implements and machinery, are now in the full tide of a prosperous season's trade which they are supplying from their large and varied stocks.

Grain and Provision Reports.

On the 7th inst. the Chicago wheat market was quiet but firm and steady at previous rates. European advices were favorable—receipts light. New York reports discouraging. Operators reluctant to trade owing to varying influences. Receipts light and shipments fair. Reports of injury to the winter wheat by the late very severe cold have had some influence on the market, but the extent of such injury has not yet been fully ascertained.

Chicago elevators at the commencement of business on the 5th contained 1,037,568 bushels of wheat, 2,451,796 bushels of corn, 537,298 bushels of oats, 6,969 bushels of rye, and 167,423 bushels of barley, making a grand total of 7,170,958 bushels, against 7,314,202 bushels one week before, and 7,526,796 bushels at the same period last year.

The amount of grain on board vessels in the Chicago harbor on the 8th was 302,116 bushels of wheat and 119,604 bushels corn.

Milwaukee warehouses, at the close of business on the 3d, contained 1,664,053 bushels of wheat, 32,669 bushels of corn, 68,042 bushels of oats, 2,521 bushels rye, 121,303 bushels of barley.

Below will be found the amount of grain in sight in the States and Canada March 27, 1875: Wheat, 10,577,622 bushels; corn, 8,235,061 bushels; oats, 2,388,474 bushels; rye, 82,981 bushels; barley, 862,161 bushels.

The exports from the leading seaboard ports during the week ending April 8th include 6,927 barrels of pork, 4,526,700 pounds of lard, 6,076,231 pounds of bacon, 64,102 barrels of flour, 539,528 bushels of wheat, 496,075 bushels of corn.

The Wheat Market.

The week which we are reviewing specially has been one of the most quiet in this cereal of any of the season. The San Francisco market has steadily advanced, as our telegrams show, while advices by mail note the fact that very few transactions are occurring, the farmers holding back on account of their spring work, or for other reasons. The market here has advanced but little, though offerings have hardly been sufficient to establish quotations. The tonnage now at hand for cargoes is very limited, and exporters do not care to enter into an advancing market unless to avoid demurrage on ships at hand. The Elizabeth Dougall is the only vessel in port under engagement to load wheat, and her cargo is already purchased. Quotations are furnished at $1 40@1 42 per cental for good to choice shipping lots, and millers might even give a slight advance on these figures. A London dispatch of yesterday says: "There have been large arrivals of wheat and in better condition without the market being shaken, although some heaviness yet remains in some of the markets. Wheat does not bring better prices, but the arrivals are not sufficient to influence London quotations, which are almost at the bottom." The drift of our dispatches from California, is not so favorable to a large yield in that State, and, on the whole, there are prospects for better prices in Oregon after harvest, than were manifest a few weeks ago.

Home Produce Market.

WHEAT—The market may be quoted nominally firm at $1 40 per cental, with light receipts and few offers to sell.

FLOUR—Choice brands are quotable at $5 50 per barrel; good country brands, $4 25; fine and superfine, $3 75a4. The market, in sympathy with wheat is firm.

OATS—Receipts have been light for some time past, and, under high prices in the San Francisco market, buyers have been anxious to secure lots. Quotable at 52½@55c per bushel.

BARLEY—There are but few transactions occurring. Quotable at $1 25 per 100 lbs for common and $1 35a1 40 for choice. The demand is fair.

MILL FEED—The scarcity noticed for several weeks past still prevails and prices are very high for the season. We quote bran at $14a15 per ton; chops, middlings, etc., $27 50a30; shorts, $22 50@25; oil cake meal, $30.

HAY—There is a fair supply of timothy and some wild in the market, the former in fair demand at $10@12 per ton, the latter $6 50@7 50.

POTATOES—There is still a fair demand both for the local trade and for shipment. Good varieties, sacked, are quotable at 75c per bushel; loose, 60@65 cents.

ONIONS—Demand and supply light and trade inactive at $1 25a1 37½ ₩ 100 lbs.

APPLES, RIPE—Most of those now reaching the market are specked and sell at a discount. We quote ordinary to good at 50@75c per box; choice, in boxes, 90a$1.

APPLES, DRIED—There is only a dull demand and prices are weak at 5a5½c ₩ lb, in sacks, and 5½a6c in kegs.

BACON—The supply is ample for the current demand and large lots cannot be placed at an advantage. Sides are quotable at 10½@11½c per lb; hams, 13a15c, and shoulders 8@8½c.

LARD—Choice fresh Oregon-made is in fair demand in kegs and tins at 15c ₩ lb, an advance of 1 cent since last report.

BUTTER—Receipts are increasing slightly and prices show a weaker tendency, but choice table is still high. Best roll quotable 30@35c; common, 25c ₩ lb.

EGGS—There is a fair demand to-day and 20c ₩ dozen is offered—an advance of 2 cents since yesterday; may decline by the beginning of next week.

CHEESE—The supply from State dairies is not large; quotable at 18@20c ₩ lb. Demand fair.

CHICKENS—The demand is fair for good lots at $4@4 25 ₩ dozen.

BEEF CATTLE—Still in fair demand, but the arrivals are increasing in number and improving in quality. Prices are furnished at 5@5½c ₩ lb neat on foot for choice; 4½c for common.

DRESSED HOGS—The demand is dull at 6@7c ₩ lb—receipts light.

MUTTON SHEEP—Few lots are arriving; quotable at $3 50@4 per head for choice.

HIDES AND FURS—There is a good trade being carried on by local buyers and shippers. Beef hides are quotable: For choice dry 16½c per lb; green salted, 7c; green, 6½c; culls, 10@12c; elk, 22c ₩ lb; deer, 18@35c ₩ lb dried, and 50@75c apiece green; mink skins each, $1@1 50, otter, $2@[illegible] beaver, 75c@$1.

WOOL—The prospect of a fair demand and better prices for the spring clip are not discouraging. Choice will probably open at 25c ₩ lb; common, 20@22c. Wool sacks, to hold 180@220 lbs, are quotable here at 55@58c each.

Shipping Intelligence.

The steamship Oriflamme leaves hence for San Francisco, with a full freight list will sail at 6 P. M. to-morrow.

The German bark Gazelle, another vessel of the grain fleet, is in the river and will probably reach here to-night.

The little schooner Katie L. Heron, from Tillamook, has arrived and lies at the wharf foot of Alder street.

The barkentine Melancthon will go down the river to-morrow to load lumber and stave bolts for San Francisco.

The Elizabeth Dougall will probably begin to load wheat in a day or two.

The steamship Ajax will leave San Francisco for Portland at the usual hour on Saturday next.

Ayer's Cherry Pectoral,
For Diseases of the Throat and Lungs, such as Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, Bronchitis, Asthma and Consumption.

The few compositions, which have won the confidence of mankind and become household words, among not only one but many nations, must have extraordinary virtues.—Perhaps no one ever secured so wide a reputation, or maintained it so long as Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. It has been known to the public about forty years, by a long continued series of marvellous cures that have won for it a confidence in its virtues, never equalled by any other medicine. It still makes the most effectual cures of Coughs, Colds, Consumption, than can be made by medical skill. Indeed the Cherry Pectoral has really robbed these dangerous diseases of their terrors, to a great extent, and given a feeling of immunity from their fatal effects, that is well founded if the remedy be taken in season. Every family should have it in their closet for the ready and prompt relief of its members. Sickness, suffering, and even life is saved by this timely protection. The prudent should not neglect it, and the wise will not. Keep it by you for the protection it affords by its timely use in sudden attacks.

Ayer's Hair Vigor,
FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR
TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY & COLOR.

Advancing years, sickness, care, disappointment and hereditary predisposition, all turn the hair gray, and either of them incline it to shed prematurely.

Ayer's Hair Vigor, by long and extensive use has proven that it stops the falling of the hair immediately; often renews the growth, and always surely restores its color, when faded or gray. It stimulates the nutritive organs to healthy activity, and preserves both the hair and its beauty. Thus brashy, weak or sickly hair becomes glossy, pliable and strengthened; lost hair regrows with lively expression; falling hair is checked and established; thin hair thickens, and faded or gray hair resume their original color. Its operation is sure and harmless. It cures dandruff, heals all humors, and keeps the scalp cool, clean and soft—under which conditions, diseases of the scalp are impossible.

As a dressing for ladies' hair, the Vigor is praised for its grateful and agreeable perfume, and valued for the soft lustre and richness of tone it imparts.

Proceedings in Parliament.

LONDON, April 23.—In the House of Commo[illegible] evening, Sullivan said he had been assured [illegible] Marquis of Hartington that a resolution woul[illegible] be introduced regulating the position of rep[illegible] for the press in the House. In view of this p[illegible] he said he would not carry out his inten[illegible] calling attention to the presence of strangers. [illegible] was a great relief to the spectators, who had c[illegible] ed the gallery in expectation of an exciting [illegible] in the Tichborne case.

After the transaction of some unimportant [illegible]ness, Kenealy rose and moved that a royal [illegible]mission be appointed to investigate the ci[illegible]stances attending the Tichborne trials. [illegible] powerful speech in support of his resoluti[illegible] alluded to the growing disaffection at the [illegible] of the trials, and the manner in which the[illegible] been conducted by the bench. Nothing sh[illegible] a royal commission of enquiry would conte[illegible] people of England, who were convinced th[illegible]tice hadn't been done. He stated he had re[illegible] many letters from Americans to the same [illegible] This discontent had grown into a torrent [illegible] was pouring over the land. The late ministr[illegible]ly owed its downfall to its conduct in regard [illegible] Tichborne case. He asserted that he had p[illegible] proof that Chief Justice Sir Alexander Cockb[illegible] society, while the trial was in progress, s[illegible] would give the claimant fifteen years imprison[illegible] He spoke severely of the Pittendriegh forger[illegible] stated that the claimant was unable to call [illegible] witnesses for lack of funds. Penalties for co[illegible] had been directed against one side only; wi[illegible] were browbeaten and the partiality of the [illegible] was patent throughout the proceedings. K[illegible] declared he had sacrificed himself to his s[illegible] honor and duty, and had been irretrievably [illegible] in his profession. He believed the motion [illegible] the House would never be renewed in its [illegible] form; it was impossible to predict the resul[illegible] the commission should be refused, and the [illegible] of the motion would spread dismay in the c[illegible] He spoke three hours and was followed by W[illegible] who seconded the motion.

Sir Richard Baggallay opposed the appoi[illegible] of the commission for which there was [illegible] slightest ground to justify it. Observations [illegible] to have been made by the Chief Justice were [illegible] misunderstood and misinterpreted.

Whalley remarked that the House seeme[illegible]
